Dear Friends,

The Pastoral Partners at the Anglican Church in Palma have been doing wonderful work supporting, helping or just being there for everyone – a background presence for many of the congregation and residents of the island throughout these very unsettled times.

Sadly, some people have slipped through the net and have not been contacted, for that we apologise, and some of you have chosen specifically not to give your details to the Pastoral Partners, fair enough.

During these extraordinary times there are those of you who may have been too worried to return to Church again since the lockdown and others who have returned but have preferred to keep their own council. Whatever your circumstances, I just want to let you know there is a pastoral partner at the end of the phone should you need one. A friend who will call to see if everything is OK with you, to see if you need anything and to offer help.

We have had concerns for some members of the congregation, especially those who live alone and who have not been to church for some time. If this is you and you would like to know someone is looking out for you, please contact the Pastoral Partners by replying to this letter or contact Rev. Vivien Larkin or Rev. Ronald Larkin directly. One of us will contact you as little or as often as you like. Anything you tell or ask us will be treated in complete confidence.

We won't interfere and will back off immediately if you feel we are overstepping the mark. I just want to let you know that the Pastoral Partners are here for you if you need us.

God Bless you and keep you safe.

Love,
Nita

P.S. We are here for you if you need us!
